Apologies –

Agenda

- In our role as learning ambassadors for our school we went on a learning walk in Year 2 today to check for evidence of learning.
- We are pleased to report that all 3 classes' books were showing lots of opportunities for learning.
- We found clear objective stickers informing the children of the day's learning.
- Marking helped the children to see where they had been successful as it was highlighted in pink.
- Green highlighting indicated growth opportunities and the children were responding to this by making their work even better by the use of red-it-edit.
- We also found writing and maths displays displaying some of the fabulous learning.
- Working walls were also good indicators of what the children were learning and the school councillors from year 2 were able to talk about the work being done in their own class.
- We also found that every child had a target sheet in the front of their writing books. The councillors explained that these helped the children to see what they were learning and they liked to see stars and pink highlighting when they had achieved their specific target.
- Well done Year 2!
- To do now-
 - School council to go on a learning walk to look for learning in year 1 and Foundation Stage
 - Learning ambassadors to video evidence for the school website

Next Meeting - Thursday 16th March during assembly
